

Discover Harriet Tubman's Auburn

Explore the historical sites that tell Harriet Tubman's story, right here in Auburn, New York.

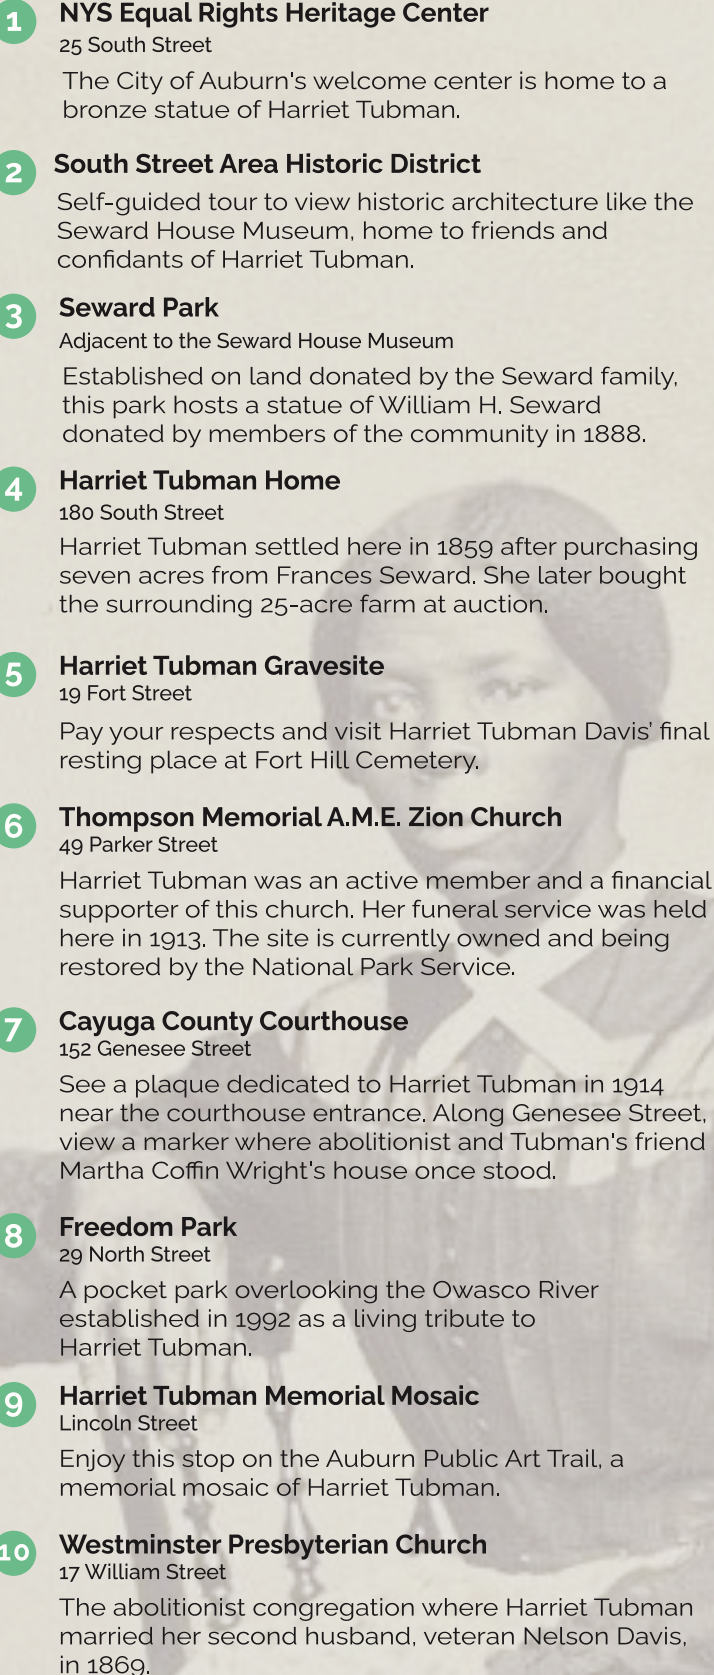

Plus, uncover more of Auburn's hidden history by looking for QR lanterns. Scan each code with your smartphone and prepare to be transported back in time.

NYS EQUAL RIGHTS HERITAGE CENTER

25 South Street | Auburn, NY 13021 | (315) 258-9820

Located in downtown Auburn adjacent to the Seward House Museum.

-
- 1 NYS Equal Rights Heritage Center
25 South Street
The City of Auburn's welcome center is home to a bronze statue of Harriet Tubman.
  - 2 South Street Area Historic District
Self-guided tour to view historic architecture like the Seward House Museum, home to friends and confidants of Harriet Tubman.
  - 3 Seward Park
Adjacent to the Seward House Museum
Established on land donated by the Seward family, this park hosts a statue of William H. Seward donated by members of the community in 1888.
  - 4 Harriet Tubman Home
180 South Street
Harriet Tubman settled here in 1859 after purchasing seven acres from Frances Seward. She later bought the surrounding 25-acre farm at auction.
  - 5 Harriet Tubman Gravesite
19 Fort Street
Pay your respects and visit Harriet Tubman Davis' final resting place at Fort Hill Cemetery.
  - 6 Thompson Memorial A.M.E. Zion Church
49 Parker Street
Harriet Tubman was an active member and a financial supporter of this church. Her funeral service was held here in 1913. The site is currently owned and being restored by the National Park Service.
  - 7 Cayuga County Courthouse
152 Genesee Street
See a plaque dedicated to Harriet Tubman in 1914 near the courthouse entrance. Along Genesee Street, view a marker where abolitionist and Tubman's friend Martha Coffin Wright's house once stood.
  - 8 Freedom Park
29 North Street
A pocket park overlooking the Owasco River established in 1992 as a living tribute to Harriet Tubman.
  - 9 Harriet Tubman Memorial Mosaic
Lincoln Street
Enjoy this stop on the Auburn Public Art Trail, a memorial mosaic of Harriet Tubman.
  - 10 Westminster Presbyterian Church
17 William Street
The abolitionist congregation where Harriet Tubman married her second husband, veteran Nelson Davis, in 1869.